Woven carpet flooring in two different surfaces.

KONTUR

RIPS

It's variety that really brings a life to life. With its ups and downs. Its peaks and troughs. But also with its quiet phases, in which everything seems to follow its usual course in an orderly manner.

TAURUS thrives on these opposites. Linear, symmetrical and almost architectural, as is the case with TAURUS Kontur, with its excitingly dynamic surface, characterised by alternating high and low structures. Or purist/minimalist, as with TAURUS RIPS, in which the linear alignment of the knops ensures that the surface has a calmingly coherent appearance. The carpet, woven using the Wilton rod technique, is available in a monochrome or multicoloured unpatterned roll, not only in two different loop piles, but also in different colour variations.
